community collection

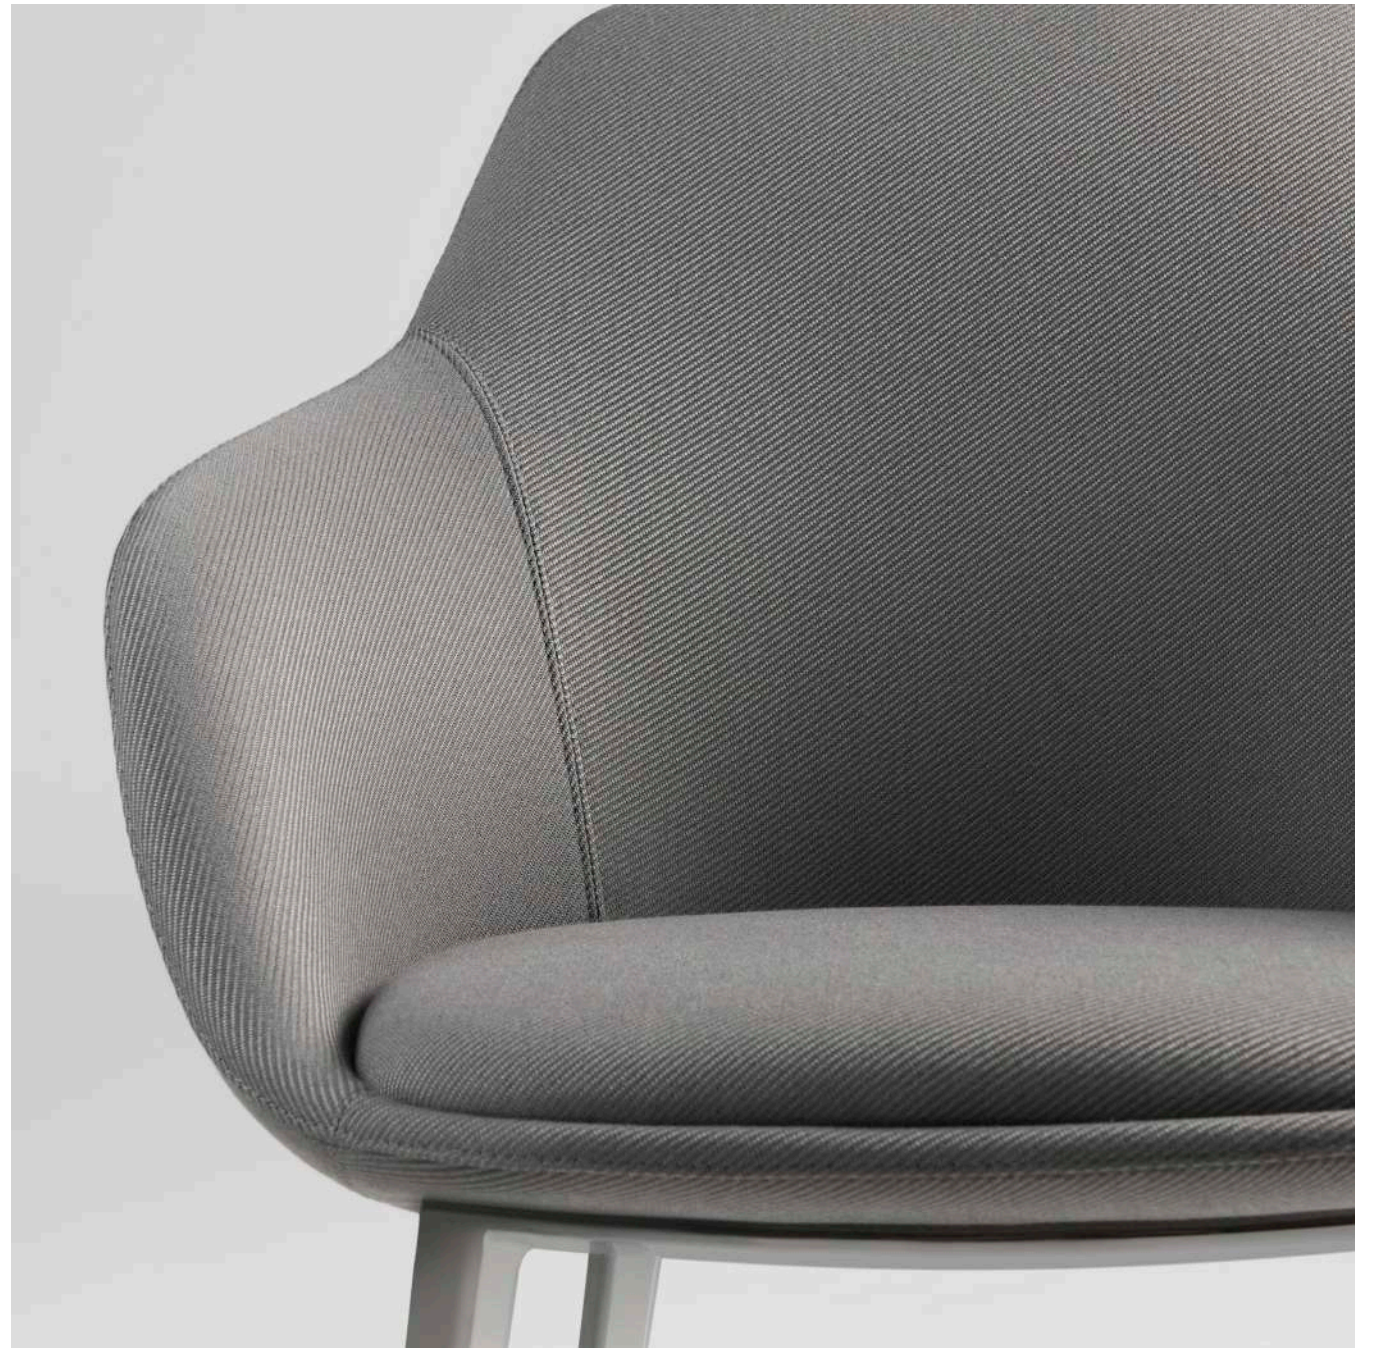

The Community Collection, designed by Nana Boateng, is a celebration of diversity and inclusivity, capturing the rich mosaic of cultures and experiences from Boateng's travels, career, and family. From the pattern designs to the names, each one tells a story and shares insight into the details that have shaped his worldview. Showcasing one sustainable pattern, one performance fabric and an innovative leather, the palette is a curated selection of five patterns in 30+ neutrals, skillfully punctuated with a few added pops of color. Pattern names Bangkok, Istanbul, Kumasi, Roma, and London are derived from influential cities in Boateng's life.

The original city to embrace and produce Boateng's unconventional design ideas, Bangkok is also where he learned to speak the first of seven other languages. Woven from sustainable and natural wool, cotton, and linen fibers, Bangkok has a smooth texture and soft touch. This classic twill, commonly seen in menswear, breathes timelessness into any space with its palette of six neutrals.

After searching the globe, Istanbul is the first city to comprehend Boateng's quest for exceptional shoe design in a trifecta of style, comfort and quality. Pattern Istanbul provides tactile interest with its texturally rich epinglé weave and varying loop height. Offered in six different hues.

Kumasi, the royal city of Africa's Kings and Queens, is also the origin of the Ashanti tribe and the Boateng family. Kumasi is a high-performance luxe velvet with a dimensional, tonal stripe. Thoughtfully crafted with a low pile, it's exceptionally durable and boasts bleach cleaning properties. Available in seven colors ranging from champagne to crimson, which is affectionately named after his daughter, Sakura.

After graduating from college, Rome was the city where Boateng created his first clothing line. As sophisticated as its name, Roma is a densely woven bouclé with a discreet luster accent yarn, bringing a touch of irresistible luxury to any application. Available in six colorways.

london

Known as the birthplace of suits, Saville Row in London was an early source of inspiration for Boateng. Offered in ten colors, London leather is full-grain, semi-aniline European leather renowned for its luxurious hand and resistance to wear. An innovative, patented tanning process creates a self-cleaning and self-sanitizing surface which offers antibacterial and antiviral properties without sacrificing visual appeal.

An international menswear designer, Nana Boateng, has left an indelible mark on a number of prestigious projects throughout his career. He is best known for dressing some of the most recognizable names in Hollywood including Terry Crews, George Clooney, David Beckham, Forest Whitaker, Djimon Hounsou, The Temptations, and Earth, Wind & Fire, to name a few.

Boateng graduated from Johnson & Wales University, where he earned a B.S. in Finance and International Marketing. Shortly thereafter, he pondered the major decision of a career change. Previously focused on athletics, the Ghanaian-American designer's shift in aspirations prompted him into the fashion world. Boateng began developing the contacts and honing the skills that would allow him to start his first company, Akua Adoma, named after his mother.

A chance meeting with director Sam Raimi at Sony Pictures Entertainment provided the catalyst for Boateng's West Coast success. The relationships forged at the film conglomerate enabled widespread exposure for his work on many A-list movies, including Spider-Man 2 and 3. One of Boateng's notable achievements includes the movie Kingsman: The Golden Circle, where he curated the wardrobe for the esteemed actor Djimon Hounsou.

Currently, Boateng is showcasing his creative vision as the lead designer on America's Got Talent. For the past seven seasons, his work has captivated audiences and elevated the overall aesthetic of the show. In addition, Boateng co-founded the highly acclaimed Amen & Amen Design Group. Through this venture, he continues to collaborate with many renowned brands and designers.

With an inborn design compass and a sensitive worldview shaped by his Ghanaian ancestry, Nana Boateng has solidified his reputation as a trailblazer in men's fashion.
